

WORKMANHURT WHEN BAR HIT OLD DYNAMITE

Colony Laborer in Hos- pital as Result of Accident

John Hermanson, aged 35, of Chicago, an employe of Contractor P. P. Kuehn, of Aurora, narrowly escaped being blown to atoms yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock at the Dixon state colony grounds. He was working in a deep ditch some distance back of the administration building, prying pieces of rock loose after a charge of dynamite had been exploded, when his bar set off an unexploded charge.

He was working with a bar, according to information gained from other employes on the job this morning, and drove the bar into a small crevice in the rock at the bottom of the ditch. None of his fellow workmen were watching him at the time, their first intuition of the accident being the report when the charge exploded blowing Hermanson's hat in the air and throwing him against the sides of the ditch.

Small bits of stone and dirt were blown into his flesh from his waist to his head; his eyes were blown full of dirt and for a time it was feared that his injuries were of a very serious nature. An ambulance was summoned to the grounds at once and the injured man was rushed to the hospital where physicians gave him immediate attention. Both eyes were closed and filled with dirt and blood and several slight hemorrhages resulted from deep flesh wounds where the pieces of rock had been blown into the flesh.

The left hand is severely lacerated, the muscles in the palm being blown to a pulp. The right hand is also badly injured but not as seriously as the left. It was stated this morning that unless infection arises the man's chances for recovery are very good.

CANDIDATES PREPARE PLANS FOR FIGHT IN CONVENTION PROPER

Chicago Begins to Take on Genuine Convention Atmosphere

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 4.—Lines of action among the Republican presidential candidates are beginning for the first time today to come out of the nebulous atmosphere of the preliminary period and move toward definite form. The arrival of Senator Johnson, of California, to take personal charge of his candidacy and the agreement among Wood leaders to have Frank H. Hitchcock act as their field marshal are the two outstanding developments which indicate that within the next 48 hours the situation among the Republicans will move into the stage where the leaders will begin to do business.

Up until today none of the convention forces had reached the stage where one manager was prepared to determine upon a line of action with any degree of certainty of what might be expected from his opponents. But the soundings which have been taken during the last day or two, coupled with the approach of the convention itself have advanced to the point where, as the politicians say, things are about ready to move.

Hitchcock Real Manager.
The Wood forces profess to be well satisfied with the arrangements within their own ranks and lay emphasis on the statement that the hopes of their opponents for a contest of leadership between William C. Procter and Mr. Hitchcock have gone a glimmering. Mr. Procter, they say, will continue in his present capacity with the Wood forces and the present agreement to have Mr. Hitchcock act as generalissimo of the forces on the convention floor was unanimous and agreeable all around.

After five days of sporadic activity and jockeying things are beginning to take on a real convention atmosphere. By the time the crowds of delegates begin pouring in and with the coming of political leaders from Washington things are expected to be first blast. The first cheers and the first songs of the boosters are beginning to be heard in the hotel lobbies and on the streets. Plans are being made in many of the campaign headquarters and the song leaders and cheer leaders are on the job beginning to drill the choruses of willing workers that always gather to participate in the noisy demonstrations which accompany a convention.

Candidates Will Talk.
Publicity plans have had an impetus, too, and beginning today Wood, Lowden and Johnson will begin giving two daily interviews to newspapermen. Other candidates will join the plan as they arrive. Senator Procter, of Washington, arrives today from Washington and on Saturday his special trains of boosters and delegates are due in from the west. From today on, carloads of delegates will be arriving from all parts of the country to go through the quadrennial preliminaries of caucusing, electing their delegation officials, members of the various convention committee and choosing the state representatives on the Republican national committee.

There are also many little booms not so well defined as being supported with such enthusiasm as the principal ones. There are candidates for president and vice president who have arrived with nominating speeches already prepared and now they are busy canvassing the various delegations trying to induce some one to deliver them.

Vice President Marshall is going to have a look at the Republican convention and possibly some of the convention on his way west. He is due to arrive today. By all comparison of all previous conventions all the scenery and props are on hand for this year's big show. There are miles of hunting flapping and fluttering in the late spring breezes of Lake Michigan; there are buttons, badges and souvenirs for the heads; there are bands by the score all ready to begin blaring the campaign anthems; there are rooters and boosters preparing their voices for the uproars. There are enthusiasts ready to parade at a moment's notice and to cheer with the winners and mourn with the losers.

While all these preparations are going on, the Republican national committee in its meeting room at the Coliseum continues to grind away deciding contests among state delegates. The Georgia case which contains delegates for Wood or Lowden is on the calendar for disposal today and there are suggestions that yesterday's decision in the Florida case—with some what similar aspects—might furnish the solution. There are some indications, however, that when the case is called it may be passed down the list to the bottom of the calendar and wait there until all the remaining contests are disposed of.

At the rate of progress there is hope among the national committeemen that they may finish their work Saturday.

ALLEN TO URGE PLANK COVERING LABOR DISPUTES

Says Public Must Be Assured Protection From Strikes

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 4.—Governor Allen of Kansas, who is to nominate General Wood, arrived today and announced that he would offer a platform plank declaring for judicial settlement of industrial disputes as the paramount issue before the nation. "We had thought that the international questions would be the chief issue," said Governor Allen, "but now industrial problems are our principal concern. I will appear before the resolutions committee to ask a plank establishing a federal tribunal to decide industrial controversies, after conciliations and all other efforts have failed. I have great hopes that such a plank will be adopted—a clear declaration for protection of the public against economic pressure of industrial strife. I believe 'economic pressure' is the term but it means taking the public by the throat and shaking it down by a strike."

Governor Allen's determination presages a debate before the resolutions committee, the American Federation of Labor having plans to send representatives here to present organized labor's views. Governor Allen said he would not propose anti-strike legislation like the Cummins railroad law but would urge laws to create a federal tribunal to decide industrial controversies. He said he would not demand adoption of the plan he put through in Kansas nor any other specific plan, but would demand a declaration of principles providing for a plan which would not take away the individual's right to strike but could deal with conspiracies between men to suspend industries needed by the public and also curb union leaders' powers to call strikes.

Governor Allen had an engagement with General Wood to discuss plans for presenting the general's name and other affairs of the Wood movement.

LOWDEN GAINS SOME DELEGATES SEATED IN SOUTH CONTESTS

Head of Platform Commit- tee Arrived in Chicago This Morning

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 4.—In the South Carolina contests, where the faction led by National Committeeman Tolbert of Greenwood was opposed by a delegation led by Duncan Adams of Spartanburg, the Republican national committee voted to seat the delegates at large of the Tolbert delegation which is counted in the Lowden column.

In the contest from the first South Carolina district the national committee voted to seat the Tolbert delegates also.

The committee wound up the South Carolina contest by voting to seat all the delegates of the Tolbert faction counted for Lowden both at large and in all seven districts.

In the contests coming from the eight districts of Mississippi a sub-committee reported the proceedings of the Mulvihill faction to be regular and that delegation was seated. It is unstructured but is counted among the Lowden forces.

The bill asks for a uniform accounting system in every county of the state. Each county officer by the provisions of this section, would be required to maintain a standard system of bookkeeping, which would be open at all times to accountants from the office of the state accounting department for inspection. By its adoption the offices affected would be placed on the same basis as the state banks, auditors being sent out at irregular periods to investigate the accounts of the county officers.

"My Dear Mr. Polk:
"The argument of necessity on account of your health in the matter of your resignation is one which I escaped from answering or combating. I feel that in conscience and friendship I have no choice in accepting your resignation though I do with the most reluctance and wish again to express the admiration I have felt for the devoted and intelligent way in which you have performed your duties in your department. We all miss you sadly and the public service will be poorer on account of your loss. With the warmest good wishes,
"Cordially and faithfully yours,

Literally "Bagged" Record Catch of Fish

Art Carnes, who claims to measure up to the average fisherman in Dixon or vicinity, now holds a challenge to the local Ike Walton who will be hard to beat. In his def. Carnes desires to meet the fisherman who can boast of having caught three fish on one hook at one time. This feat was actually accomplished by the challenger and he has witnesses to prove his claim.

On one of his recent trips to Rock river near the bridge, he thought that his line was snagged after casting into a deep hole. He worked the line in slowly and when it came to the surface, a bulgur sack was on the hook. He drew it up expecting to find the remains of some household pet but there was life aplenty in the sack and when he opened it, there were three big carp, very much alive in the bottom of the sack.

LEGION WILL FURNISH BIG CHORUS OF MALE VOICES FOR CIRCUS

Other Plans Made for the Coming Hippodrome Entertainment

The meeting of Dixon Post No. 12, The American Legion, which was held at G. A. R. hall last night turned out to be a regular booster meeting for the Community Circus & Hippodrome, which is to be given at the Assembly Park Auditorium Friday and Saturday, June 18 and 19, by the community of Dixon for the benefit of the local Post of the American Legion.

Mrs. Wallace, who staged the Society Circus some years ago, came to Dixon last week and offered her services in promoting a Community Circus and Hippodrome for the benefit of the Legion. Her proposition was at once accepted by committee from the various patriotic and civic organizations of Dixon, so Mrs. Wallace proceeded to make all arrangements for putting on the best home talent show the most completed and rehearsals have been started.

To Furnish Big Chorus.
Last night was the first opportunity Mrs. Wallace and her local committee could find for formally presenting the matter to Dixon Post No. 12. The local Post was most enthusiastic in its reception of the most generous offer of the community of Dixon, and at once named committees to assist in every way possible in making the Community Circus & Hippodrome the biggest and best home talent show that Dixon has ever seen.

The Post will furnish a chorus of one hundred voices. The first rehearsal will be held in Armory hall, Monday evening, at 7:30. Commander Dixon wants every Legion member in Dixon to report for a try-out for the chorus. Lack of a personal invitation should not prevent any from attending the first meeting of the chorus next Monday night.

Manager Hal Drake is expected to return home from St. Louis tomorrow and will accompany the Browns to Rockford. Many local fans are also expected to make the trip.

Corn Market Broke Sharply This Morn

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 4.—Free selling on the part of commission houses led to sharp breaks in the price of corn today. Belief that receipts would show considerable enlargement next week was chiefly responsible. Country offerings were reported to have increased to a material degree. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/4c higher, with July 17 1/2 to 1 3/4 and September 1.60 to 1.60 1/2 were followed by a slight general gain and then by a fall to below yesterday's finish.

Oats, like corn, were subjected to heavy selling pressure. After opening 1/4c off to a like advance they hardened a little and then underwent a decided setback.

Provisions weakened with hogs and grain. Buyers were scarce. Later there was no pressure on the market, and prices advanced in sympathy with cash grain. The close was nervous, 1/2 to 1 1/2 net higher with July 1.74 1/2 to 1.74 1/2 and Sept. 1.60 1/2 to 1.60 1/2.

Woman Not Worried Over Food Shortage

"I have lived on toast and water for over 6 months and have been scarcely able to eat anything for the past year. I began suffering from stomach trouble and bloating 5 years ago. A friend recommended Mayer's Wonderful Remedy and since taking 6 doses I feel I am entirely restored; even cabbage does not hurt me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convulse or money refunded. Druggists everywhere.

W.I.M. DISTRICT CONVENTION—

The delegates from the Dixon Methodist church returned last evening from Morris, Ill., where they attended the second annual meeting of the Joliet-Dixon District Woman's Home Missionary society, held in the Morris Methodist Episcopal church on June 2 and 3.
In the party leaving Dixon on Wednesday morning were Mrs. Willifer, president, of the local auxiliary; Mrs. J. B. Anderson, Mrs. Fred Hobbs, Mrs. Ira Lewis, and Mrs. C. H. Meyers, of the Dixon society, and Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Boos, president of the Sterling First Street Church Auxiliary, Mrs. W. C. Wink, president of the Sterling Fourth Street Church auxiliary, Mrs. Edith Gerber, and F. A. Davis, Reading Circle Secretary of the district, all of Sterling. Two Men-tota ladies, Miss Moss, Corresponding secretary of the district, and Mrs. Vilcox, joined the party when the train reached Mendota.
There were forty-eight delegates at the convention, aside from the attendance from the Morris local auxiliary, which was large.
These represented the 18 auxiliaries and 10 Queen Esther societies there are in the Joliet-Dixon district. Every auxiliary and Queen Esther Circle had reports of the year's work, showing excellent progress. Last year one band of "Mothers' Jewels," showing the children's organization, was reported; this year there are six. The reports also showed that 138 members were added to the auxiliaries of the district during the past year and that by the time the "Mothers' Birthday" offerings, celebrating the fortieth birthday of the organization of the society, are taken the district treasury will show nearly a thousand dollars more for this year than any previous year. Increases and progress was reported in every line of work. Many of the societies reported a fifty per cent attendance throughout the year and all showed an attendance of from thirty to sixty per cent. The excellent attendance report was especially remarkable, as was also the spirit of co-operation and helpfulness shown in the membership of each society in local and district work.

The program of the convention was most entertaining and inspiring and was given as follows:

"Birthday Luncheon"
Particularly interesting among the addresses was that given by Mrs. F. E. Clendenen, Young People's Conference Secretary, on Wednesday evening.

In the church dining room on Thursday noon was celebrated with a birthday luncheon the fortieth anniversary of the organization of the society. This was called the "Mothers' Birthday Luncheon." A birthday cake, place cards, programs of toasts, and all the dainty accessories of the regular luncheon were there. Mrs. Grant Houston, of Joliet, served as toastmistress. Mrs. Ira Lewis, a charter member, both of the Dixon auxiliary and the district organization, Mrs. Bangel, of Sterling, and Mrs. Poor-man, of Oak Park, responded to toasts, and Rev. T. K. Gale, superintendent of the Joliet-Dixon district, gave a very encouraging and helpful talk in which he furnished an outlook into the future which inspired all with enthusiasm for increased endeavor.

The ladies of the Morris church did everything possible for the comfort of the guests from other auxiliaries. The church was most beautifully and profusely decorated with flowers, posters sent from the different auxiliaries, etc. A very attractive poster was there from the Dixon society.

All the officers of the district organization were in attendance at the sessions. These included Mrs. G. W. Poorman, of Oak Park, president; Mrs. W. S. Bangel, of Sterling, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. E. Clendenen, Young People's Conference Secretary. These were all re-elected with the exception of Mrs. Bangel and Mrs. Clendenen. Mrs. J. N. Finnegan, of Sycamore, was chosen corresponding secretary and Mrs. Horner, of Sterling, the Young People's Conference Secretary.

RACE COMPARISONS

All sorts of statements are made to prove that one race is better or worse than another. Here is one to the effect that a Scotchman's brain weighs 50.0 ounces; a German's 49.6, an Englishman's 49.5; a Frenchman's 47.4; a Chinaman's 47.2, and an Es-quimaux's still less.

But how are such figures derived?
When it comes to such small fractions, what a brain weighs on the scales depends on where it was cut off from the spinal cord, and how it was drained of blood. No fine comparison can be trusted until one knows that the technique was the same for all, and that is not, probably if different people did the weighing, perhaps in different countries.

And what Englishmen or Scotch men is it whose brain-weights were counted? Under nourished paupers or men of parts and substance? For it makes a difference. There is a prejudice against dissections, and brains are hard to get. Before one compares he must be sure that the samples weighed do justice to the race they are supposed to represent.

Then, after all, from the stand point of race, what is an Englishman, a Frenchman or a German? A group of German students once agreed that a tall, fair-haired American amongst them was the purest German of them all, though he could trace no new drop of German blood since the Angles and Saxons came to England.

As a matter of fact, it has been proved that in many human qualities there is far more variation between different members of the same race than between the average of one and the average of another.

VIA SUBFREIGHT

It is pleasing to read of sub-marine activities without seeing that mental picture of U-boat frightful-ness.

For these "submarine activities," reports of which are coming westward from the Atlantic seaboard have nothing to do with sinking liners, blowing up cities, nor other deeds of war.
They do have to do with the freight service to Cuba.

Ten of the submarines now being completed by the Shipping Board are to be turned over to the newly organized Transmarine Corporation, and will carry freight to and from Cuba.
No passengers will be taken, at least not until the sub experiment is proven successful.

A few years more at the present pace and the old dollar will have to reach up to touch bottom.

If marriage is really on the increase it only goes to prove that love blinds people to the sins of landlords.

It's a safe bet that the fabled seven-league boots didn't have paper soles.

It won't be long until two can live as cheaply as one can now.

TINGALING
Tingaling, the fairy landlord of the Land-of-Deer-Knows-Where, has his hands quite full, you may imagine.
When spring comes, all the animals leave Dreamland (where they spend their winters—all except the birds who go south), and then go to Scrubby-Land to get spring-cleaned; and then come crowding in two and four into the Land-of-Deer-Knows-Where to rent houses for the summer months.

The worst of it is that each creature is very particular about where he goes for he won't just live in any kind of a house at all. It has to be so and so and so.

Samantha Squirrel has to have a house just so far above the ground; Mrs. Woodchuck has to have one just so far under the ground with a certain number of hallways; and Mrs.
Plicker (Mrs. Yellow-Hammer) has to have a house with a certain sized

Such is Life

* With many a squeak and protesting creak the wheel doth turn in Merrie England, and the old order changeth yielding place to a new.

Canon Dalton, of Windsor, now proposes alteration in the text of the common prayer. There is the usual chorus of Outraged Citizens, Church Goers, Ratepayers and others.

The Canon, perhaps with an eye on woman suffrage, wants to remove the word of "obey" from the marriage obligation.

"Sacrilegious!" declare his critics.
"He would rob the ceremony of its efficacy."

He wants, too, to change "wealth" to "prosperity and well-being," in the prayer of the king.

"Hurt the sovereign's feeling," thinks Pro Bono Public in The Times.

But when the Canon thought it might be a neat little change, and moved to strike "eternal damnation" and insert "everlasting condemnation," either might have broken loose on his gray head.

"He tempts Satan," they said, and they might have cried, "Crucify him!" A London paper finds "one of the most amusing changes" to be the proposal that the Litany read, "ministers of the Crown," instead of "nobility."

Verily the "world do move" on the Other Side, but grease be wanting for its axle.

As long as there are rifle cartridges, nails and small boys, there will be newspaper items telling of the combination of the three and the loss of one eye or two.

It happens this way:
Johnnie finds a nice shiny brass cartridge. Johnnie remembers the shrill whistle the boy next door made from an exploded shell. Johnnie, with laudable pains, whittles away the lead bullet and spills as much powder as he can from the cartridge case. Some sticks. Johnnie finds a shingle nail to pry it loose.

Then the tiny cap in the base of the shell opens up with usually effective results. Johnnie doesn't know that the tiny red copper disc at the bottom holds a speck of the world's most touchy and fastidious explosive—Fulminate of mercury.

The nail hits Mr. Fulminate. It strikes fire. The remaining powder ignites—puffs out and Johnnie will finish his life with one eye.

The moral? But what's the use—so long as cartridges, small boys and nails combine—

Confessions of a Bride (Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

OUR SUSPICION IS AROUSED ON SEEING CERTS HAD PUT INTO AN OBSCURE PORT

Dear Daddy Lorimer was not dead:
We laughed or cried, each according to his or her temperament, when Bob had finished reading that wonderful telegram.

"I gather that Dad is planning to stay on the little ship with Certs until they reach a big port," said Bob after going over the yellow paper a second time. "I appears that nothing homeward bound ever stops at the landing where they put in for fuel.
Evidently it's an obscure place. I say! This wire was a full week getting here! That's much too long!
Golly, Jane! Let's look the thing up!"

So off I went to the library with my student husband as I had done a thousand times "to look up" something.
Never before did I fully realize that a geography could be so entertaining!
"Looking up" something—anything—represented our return to civilization and home! I wanted no greater happiness.

What we discovered by studying the map was less satisfactory than the process of discovery.

"Why, that wire had to be carried to a telegraph office nearly a hundred miles by messenger," said Bob. "The coast town where the ship put in can't be much more than a fishing village of natives. I say, Jane!" But instead of saying anything, Bob dropped into one of his characteristic fits of meditation.

"Say it, then!" I urged.
"Just look at this map! Certs might have run his ship into a much bigger town, a real harbor—with quays and railroads. Why did he pick out that dinky little dock, do you suppose?"

"I can guess," I said.
"And so can I! He is afraid! Not only of the United States and of Mexico. The governments of the world have found him out, at last! I should say. He's a sort of a man without a country. Which means that the Hon.
James D. Lorimer and Mr. Gene Archer will be kept about the Flying Dutchman, and will cruise the seven seas for—God knows how long!"

"Imagine our Daddy doing anything against his will!" I said.

"For the first time in his life I guess! Some discipline for the government!" The idea made Bob smile in spite of himself. "Gosh! What a trick for chance to play on Dad! It must have stunned him to find what he was up against! I wonder what he said when he couldn't buy the boat and order the captain to turn about and run for New York harbor! Why, my dear, it may be months before those two renegades, Certs and Don Manuel, will dare to show themselves to a world of waiting detectives!"

"Then maybe it will be months before we hear from Daddy?"

Bob nodded.
"It makes me dismal, Bob. Daddy's plans always work out on schedule time. He will be wrathful when he finds himself thwarted. Bob! He might have another stroke!"

"Nonsense! Our old Dad has now embarked on the time of his life. He's free from all responsibilities, in spite of himself. Old chaps take to adventure like ducks to a pond. And then he's far more valuable alive than dead, you know. No matter how long Certs may hide in the back lanes of the oceans, he'll take good care to see that Dad survives the trip."

"We'd better not alarm your mother, Bob."

"I agree. We're not sure of anything. We'd better keep our surmises to ourselves. Let's show the map to mother."

"Wait, Bob! Wait a minute! Last night I had a peculiar dream. I saw our Daddy—walking with a cane—and feeling his way as if he had lost his sight!"

"And I suppose you think it a premonition! I'm getting damned—I mean I wish you'd stop fussing with this silly mystic stuff. Leave it to Chrys. She can attend to the needs of the entire family."

"But Bob—I saw Daddy reach out his hand to me—as if he wanted me to guide his steps!"

"You certainly can get onto a fellow's nerves with mighty few words, my dear."

"If Daddy was balked and made to play second fiddle on that boat, he's surely have another brain lesion.
I tried to tell you before. Maybe that is what my dream means."

HOW MUCH DO YOU WEIGH? Superfluous Fat Must Be Starved Away and Worked Away. It Cannot Be Sweated Away.

BY UNCLE SAM, M. D.,

(U. S. Public Health Service.)

The term "obesity" is applied to an abnormal increase in the body weight.
It may result from overfeeding or lack of exercise, or a combination of these two factors, or it may be due to some constitutional derangement, such as a disorder of the thyroid gland.

Before any plan of treatment is formulated, the habits of life of the patient must be carefully and exactly determined in order that the cause of the obesity may be discovered. In general, it may be stated that a reduction cure need not necessarily be regarded as weakening, provided it is properly carried out. If there is a real need for the reduction treatment, and if it is properly carried out, the patient will not become weaker, but on the contrary, stronger from the treatment.

There are, however, a number of conditions that constitute a warning against undertaking a reduction cure.
One of these is advanced age; another is diabetes. Diabetics often fare better if the fat tissues remain somewhat above the normal average. This is also true of the gouty. In tuberculosis, too, a degree of fatness, slightly exceeding the normal, appears to be beneficial rather than otherwise.
In dealing with obesity occurring in patients with certain forms of Bright's disease, a reduction treatment, while highly desirable, is usually attended with such difficulties that it should be carried out only by a skillful physician in a suitable sanatorium.

Van Noorden distinguishes three degrees of reduction diet. According to this authority, in either the first or second it is not difficult to arrange the diet. All that is needed is to omit all visible fat (butter, oil, meat fat, etc.), to prepare vegetables and dishes made

AVERAGE HEIGHT AND WEIGHT

If you are more than 25 pounds below the average for your height and age, you are thin and probably undernourished.
(For a man add 2 pounds to the average; for a woman subtract 2 lbs.)

from flour, with little fat, and to restrict the use of beer and wine.

FAT MAY EAT.

In cases in which a reduction cure
of the third degree is found necessary, the bill of fare should consist essentially of the following articles of food:
Coffee, tea, without additions.

Meat broth (fat skimmed off) with vegetables.

Lean meat or fish (total weight about 8 to 12 ounces, weighed cooked).

Lean cheese.

Abundant green vegetables and cal-ads, prepared with as little fat or oil as possible.

Vinegar, lemon, vinegar pickles, brine pickles, tomatoes, celery, radishes.

Abundant raw fruit with a small percentage of sugar (apples, peaches, strawberries, raspberries, currants,

blueberries, sour cherries, grapefruit, early oranges, etc.)

Coarse bread (bran bread, graham bread) in quantities of from 1½ to 2½ ounces.

Potatoes (prepared without fat) in quantities of from 3 to 5 ounces.

Mineral waters, as much as desired.

One to two eggs.

Skimmed milk, buttermilk.

Many persons will be surprised to see potatoes listed here. According to Van Noorden they constitute a valuable article of diet in reduction cures, because they combine large volume with a small food value.

It is impossible to carry out a reduction cure of the third degree without measuring and weighing all the food. Even in those of the second degree, it is preferable to use measures and scales.

WHERE HOOVER HAS

EDGE ON WOOD, JOHNSON

Portland.—Under the Oregon law only voters who can wear campaign badges at the polls are those for Hoover. To wear an "I'm for Hiram" or "Wood for President" badge is a crime under the law that says no propaganda at a voting place. But Hoover, not being an avowed candidate, his supporters can advertise him to their hearts' content.

FEEPORT PAPER BOOSTS LEE COUNTY CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE OF THE FIFTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

Freeport Journal-Standard: Citizens of Lee county unanimously contend that a Circuit Judge to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge Richard S. Farrand should be chosen from that county. It must be admitted that there is force in their contention. They are presenting a candidate who is most eminently endowed for such a position. Recognizing his splendid qualifications and exceptional ability, every lawyer of Lee county signed a petition requesting Harry Edwards, of Dixon, Lee County, Illinois, to become a candidate to fill that vacancy, and pledged him the earnest support which they are extending. The Republican County Central committee of Lee County endorsed his candidacy and his numerous friends throughout the Fifteenth Judicial district, are confidentially anticipating his nomination at the Republican convention to be held at Freeport on June 17th, and his election on July 27th.

Mr. Edwards was born June 27th, 1880. He graduated with honors from the Dixon High school and completed his college education at the Dixon college and at the University of Wisconsin. Upon completing his law course at the university he studied for a time in the office of Judge R. S. Farrand at Dixon, and shortly thereafter he successfully passed the state bar examination and was admitted to practice in 1902. His appointment as assistant state's attorney of Lee county soon followed, and he acted in that capacity until 1908, when he was elected state's attorney of Lee county. His services as a prosecutor was so eminently satisfactory that he was re-elected in 1912, and again in 1916, and his record in that position is one of which he may well be proud. His active and vigorous prosecution of criminals and his efficient co-operation with all phases of law enforcement work, has been productive of most beneficial results.

Mr. Edwards possesses all of the characteristic attributes of the successful lawyer. By diligence and industry, he has developed into one of the most skilled members of the profession in this section of Illinois. He has a natural aptitude for trial work and has been actively and successfully engaged in much of the important litigation of Lee county during the past fifteen years. Of a naturally conservative and thrifty disposition he has established a reputation as one of the most substantial public spirited citizens of his community and his sound business judgment is frequently sought on matters of great importance.

As a public speaker he has exceptional ability. His services in that capacity are in frequent demand and his untiring efforts and forcible addresses delivered during the period of the recent war activities aided materially in producing the creditable record made by Lee county.

Mr. Edwards is inherently of a judicial temperament. Naturally of keen perception, his mind has become especially trained in grasping all phases of intricate legal problems, and determining the equities of those involved with justice and precision. His election as Circuit Judge of this district, will insure to the people of this commonwealth the proper administration of justice in the courts where he may preside.

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—Establishment of a uniform accounting system for all county, town and school officers, under the supervision of the state auditor was approved by the Illinois constitutional convention today. The auditor would be required to establish the system and to audit the account of all these officers by this section of the legislative article which was considered by the convention meeting today in committee of the whole. Numerous amendments were defeated.

This section was the last of the legislative article but a final vote on the article was prevented by a motion made by delegate, Andrew H. Mills, of Decatur, to reconsider the section which deals with the power of the governor in calling out state troops for duty.

As adopted the governor may order the use of state troops to protect "life and property endangered by any public disaster."

The section presented by the committee authorized the governor to use the militia to protect "life and property" while the present constitution provides only for the use of state troops "to execute the law."

The convention adjourned without taking a vote on the motion to reconsider the section. The adjournment was until Tuesday, June 15, a recess

WILL THE PARTIES WHO HAVE ORDERED EXTRA COPIES OF THE TELEGRAPH PLEASE CALL FOR SAME.

MRS. ALICE GRESHAM DODD.
mother of the first American soldier killed in France, who gives entire credit for recovery of her health to the well-known medicine Tanlac.

The following remarkable endorsement of Tanlac was given recently by Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, at the Gresham Memorial Home, Gavin Park, Evansville, Ind., which home was presented to her by the patriotic people of Indiana, as evidence of their appreciation of the services rendered to his country by her son, Corporal James B. Gresham, the first American soldier killed in France. Expressions of sympathy were received by Mrs. Dodd from all parts of the United States, and the newspapers of the country carried the story of the first "war mother."

The shock of her son's death resulted in the serious breakdown of Mrs. Dodd's health, but everyone will learn with interest and pleasure that she is now in splendid health again. When seen at her home recently she made the following statement, giving the entire credit for her recovery to the well-known medicine, "Tanalac."

"After my dear boy's death, I had a general breakdown in health," said Mrs. Dodd. "At first it was just indigestion. My food used to upset me and I had to diet myself very carefully, which wasn't much hardship as I lost all desire to eat. Then I had an attack of rheumatism, with severe pains in my shoulders, back and arms. Sometimes I used to suffer a great deal, and my joints would get all swollen up and stiff. I was able to do very little about the house, and at times couldn't even cook a meal. I got very nervous and restless, and at night would lay awake for hours, and lost many a night's sleep as a consequence.

"A friend of mine had received a great deal of help from Tanlac, and it was she who advised me to try it. I am so glad I did for it proved the best medicine I have ever taken. It soon gave me a good appetite and seemed to settle my stomach so that I was no longer troubled with indigestion. I don't know what it is to have rheumatic pains now, the swelling and stiffness has all gone out of my joints and I am able to do the work of the house with the greatest ease. My nerves are now steady and strong. I sleep fine at night, and I feel better in health than ever before in my life. I shall always be grateful for what Tanlac has done for me, and I shall recommend it every chance I get."

Tanalac is sold in Dixon by Public Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggists in every town.

The world output of silk amounts to about 700 tons a day.

The satisfaction of a radiant complexion

The satisfaction—the self confidence that results from knowing that you are well groomed cannot be expressed in words. But being well groomed is not altogether a matter of dress—perfect grooming also requires a sweet, clean complexion, radiant with health.

A clear, healthy complexion means a well nourished skin—one that is treated daily with a skin nutrient, for nature demands food, and just as we feed our bodies to produce vigor and health so too we must feed the skin.

You should demand more of your facial cream than mere cleansing properties. A cream should nourish while it cleanses in order to strengthen the tissues, to eliminate wrinkles and stimulate the glands which produce the rosy bloom of youth.

Every woman knows the value of cocoa butter as a skin food. Scientists agree on its remarkable nutritive qualities.

Coco-Bloom offers you pure cocoa butter combined with other ingredients of benefit to the skin in a delightful, velvety, luxurious facial cream.

You will like Coco-Bloom. In it you have one cream for cleansing, for massage, as a foundation for powder—in fact everything that affects the skin. It isn't sticky—it isn't greasy—it does not encourage the growth of hair.

Remember, Coco-Bloom is a cocoa butter cream, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy.

Eastern Women are Abandoning Veils

London.—One of the results of the introduction of western European ideas into the Near East is the growing habit of abandoning the veil, hitherto an indispensable article of attire for Turkish women. Many women now appear in the street with no veil, or with one so thin that their faces are clearly visible.
